the the fate of ex-Alderman Cleary was resumed at 11 sterday before Justice Barrett. Five men were in the box as the result of Monday's work. They er at No. 894 Sixth-ave. and living at No. 133 West ty-seventh-st. He had an impression which he told Shafer he should carry into the jury-box, but he beed it would not affect him in the reception or consider n of the evidence for or against the prisoner. The ourt overruled the defendant's objection for Mas. of Jurors was directed not to place his nam sioner of Jurors was directed not to place his name in the wheel again. Eugene J. Band had a fatal spinion. William J. McPherson. a banker and broker with Enos & Buck. No. 2 Nassau-st. living at No. 51 West Twenty-cirhth-st., was finally taken for the seventh seat. He is a man of intelligence, discrimination and candor. Mr. Shafer tried hard to keep Mr. McPherson off the jury, but though he conceded that he had an impression, he was sure he could decide the case on the evidence.

candor. Mr. Shafer tried hard to keep Mr. Mornerson on the Jury, but though he conocede that he had an impression, he was sure he could decide the case on the evidence.

George Dieckmann could not speak English. Horatio J. Brewer was almost put in the jury box. but he admitted that he had a doubt whether he could prevent his mind being affected involuntarily by his present oninion, and he was excused. Jacob Simon anawered all questions in a satisfactory way and took the cishin seat. Moses T. Williams shook his head with so decided an air as he said "Yes, sir; I have an opinion and a decided one, too," that he was allowed to so. Thomas A. Young was taken as the ninth one. He is a wall-paper manufacturer at No. 96 Duane-st. living at No. 312 Second-ave. He seemed by his answers to be a candid, fair-minded man. Jacob Marks, a clothing dealer, of No. 153 East Fifty-fifth-st. doing business at No. 311 Church-st., was accepted as No. 10. He seemed as fairly intelligent man, though somewhat slow of apprehension. Harry R. Reid, John Gilmore and William C. Dormin were disqualified by reason of their opinions. The eleventh seat was occupied by Nathaniel J. W. Lecato, a bookkeeper, at No. 19 Union Square, livine at No. 226 East One-hundred-and-fourteenth-st. When John F. Clarke, a broker, in the Potter Building, took the stand he said he had certain personal information acquired during the summer of 1884 concerning the conduct of the promoters of the Broadway scheme which had given him a strong conviction as to the means employed to pass the franchise. He feared he could not be a competent jurer under those circumstances. Mr. Nicoli thereupon challenged the talesman and then said:

"Will you please call upon me at my office to-morrow morning at 10:30 o'clock, Mr. Clarke i''
Mr. Clarke said he would and went out. Columbus O. D. Iselin, of the banking firm of A. Iselin & Co., said he had an opinion, but he was confident he could decide the case upon the evidence. Men like Mr. Iselin are the dread of Mr. Shafer, and he made

The new English mail contract arranged by the British Admiralty and the "Liverpool Ring" with the British ster-General, which has occasioned much adverse ism, went into effect yesterday by date of contract, but practically goes into effect to-day by the salling of the White Star steamship Adriatic from Liverpool. The new arrangement provides that the mails shall be sent by the Cunard and the White Star steamships, regularly, from Liverpool and Quéenstown, and, "when specially addressed," by the inman Line steamships, regularly, from Liverpool on Tuesday and Queenstown on Wednesday, and by the North German Lloyd's swift steamships leaving Routhampton on Thursdays. It was hoped that the British officials would adopt the plan followed by this country for several years, and send the mails by the most available and fastest steamers, regardless of the line to which they belong, but when Mr. Raikes proposed this and arranged for a three months' trial, the Cunard and White Star companies remained to carry any mails unless they could carry all. Then Mr. Raikes attempted to force the two companies to carry the mails from Queenstown, when they discontinued stopping there, and changed their schedule so as to leave Liverpool alternately and upon bi-weekly departures. Hence Mr. Raikes was limited to the North German Lloyd swift eight-days steamships from Southampton; the Guion liners, of which the Alaska and Arizona are the only steamships of the seven-days type from Queenstown, and the ten-days steamers of the Inman Line.

By practically excluding the North German Lloyd steamers, all of which are of the so-called "greybound" at practically goes into effect to-day by the sailing of the

By practically excluding the North German Lloyd teamers, all of which are of the so-called "greyhound" American merchants and other correspondents. It de-prives them of a mid-weekly correspondence. The Adriatic will be the first to leave New-York on a Wednes-day on March 16. The Cunard steamers will sail from Liverpool on Saturday, as heretofore, but the services of the fast steamers Alaska and Arizona, of the Guion Line, and the City of Rome, of the Anchor Line, will not be billized as mail-carriers.

LIBEL SUIT OVER THE HARLEM COMMONS.

The libel suit of the Rev. W. E. Covert, of Pittsburg, against Walter H. Shupe, trustee of the Harlem Commons against Walter H. Shupe, trustee of the Hariem Commons of Police Justice White at the Tombs yesterday. Mr. Covert was formerly a trustee also in the syndicate. Not approving the way in which the business was conducted, he denounced Shupe and withdrew. Shupe in retaliation made a flerce attack in his paper, The Advocate, upon Covert. He referred to him as a "purpit prostitute" who was answerable to the authorities here for "conduct under the penal code," and added:

i basiness matters he (Covert) is incompetent, in morals s without principle, and is unworthy of any consideration, its or association with honest men or virtuous women—h him not.

This roused Mr. Covert's wrath. He came on to New This roused Mr. Covert's wrath. He came on to New-York, engaged ex-Assistant District-Attorney John M. Coman as counsel and began the suit. Mr. Shope was represented by Fosier & Stephens. The first witness examined yesteriay, Augustus St. Clair, testified that he was managing editor of The Advocate at the time of the publication of the alleged likel and that he saw copies of the paper distributed by Shupe. H. E. Browne, secretary of the syndicate, also swore that Shupe was the man responsible for the publicity of the attack. Mr. McBride, the publisher of the paper, corroborated their testimony. This was us far as the complainant attempted to go in consequence of the absence of important witnesses. The case was adjourned until some time in April.

MR. LACOMRE AND THE "DIVES."

Corporation Counsel Lacombe is disposed to regard it as a legal anomaly that he, the civil law adviser of the city, per in connection with the suppression of "dives." He was asked by a Tsumuse reporter yesterday if the Law Department was carrying out the plan laid down for the extermination of such of these places as are unlicensed. Be replied: should be required to act to an extent as a criminal law

We have received a number of requests from the Mayor's flice accompanied with proof, and have taken steps to secure junctions against the persons indicated as proprietors. I must say what the result will be. The statute is plan and course in each case where we can show the offence and instact the ownder there will be no doubt of our securing an instact the ownder there will be no doubt of our securing an instact the fash for ome time warranted it. It is most the statute has for ome time warranted it. It is most be say it is a superficient of the City (New York has to proceed under this statute. The offence supplained of are two in number:

First—two intring an exhibition of the kind specified in the latute without themse from the Mayor.

Second—Giving such exhibition with license from the layor, but, at the same time and place selling wine, beer and quors.

Each of these offences is by statute made a misdeneanor punishable by imprisonment in the Pentientary for a term sole less than three months nor more than one year, and a fine a sole less than $400 nor more than $5,000 policemen, eleven sole less than $400 nor more than $5,000 policemen, eleven sole policies, three superior oriminal judges and a biairiet shorter, it seems unfortunate, as it is certainly illogical, hat we have to invoke the powers which the Eupreme Court iss inherited from the high Court of Chancery to secure sultitudinous hyunctions to restrain individuals from committing madementors.

BRAUNSCHWEIG AND SCHENCK RELEASED. Braunschweig and Schenck, the Anarchists imprisoned with John Most on Blackwell's Island, were released early yesterday morning, their terms of imprisonment of nine menths each having expired. They were taken across the river to the Fifty-second Street ferry-landing, where their families and several Anarchist friends awaited been. Then they went home, taking in Justus Schwab's beer-shop and numerous beers on the way. The apostles beer-shop and numerous beers on the way. The apostles of Anarchy maintained the high-beer standard of Anarchy as which there was great rejoicing. The Anarchists generally throughout the city celebrated the great event. The dingy little office of Most's paper, Preinell, at No. 167 William-st, was painted as red as the gory battle flags that adorn the walls of the "anactum." On the door was a big sign which bore the words: "Bindhounds of the Capitalist Press not Admitted." This was not aimed at the "growler," however. To-night the Anarchists will be charged for the benest of Braunachweig and schenck. "Freedom of Speech in America, and Blackwell's Island" is the subject of discussion. The two Anarchists, one of whom does not speak English, will talk on this subject.

POLICE COMMISSIONERS STILL AT ODDS he Police Commissioners had more talk yesterday ut the application of the Civil Service rules in the ion of captains and sergeants. Mr. Voorhis had premotion of captains and sergeants. Mr. Voorhis had respected a long set of resolutions, rectifing the recent discreament in the Board from his point of view and asking the Civil dervice dupervisory Board to help him and his sellengues out of their difficulty. Mr. Modiave presented a still longer set of resolutions rehearsing the facts in the dispute, claiming that the Civil Service rules had been properly expisiend by Everett P. Wheeler and ending with a certificate of timess for Captain, Allaire, Gunner and Webb and firteen sergeants, including Outes and Technical I. No action was taken on either set of resolu-

Wilhelm na Rosenman, age tweety five, in a sworn statement made before Police Justice Massey charged that Michael Moloney, of the Fifteenth Precinct, attempted to assault her at No. 132 Degraw-st., where she is a servant for Mrs. Tartier. MR. ARMOUR TO MAKE COTTONSEED OIL. The report that Philip D. Armour, with some associates, was about to form a company for the manufacture of cottonseed oil was confirmed yesterday. A published dispatch from Galveston, where Mr. Armour happened to be found on his pleasure trip, contained his open avowal of an intention to engage in the business, which had been forced upon him, he said, by the monepoly established by the American Cetton Oil Trust Company. The use of cottoneed oil bad become a necessity in making lard, and his firm alone consumed about a fifth of the total production. In fact, the present company had become a direct competitor in the manufacture of lard and consequently he was forced to secure independence by making his own cottonseed oil.

It is said that the rival company will have a capital of $10,000,000, and will establish mills in the cotton belt in time to grind the seed of the next crop. Among Mr. Armour a associates in this new enterprise are some of the largest some manufacturers in the commiry, and it is said that libe stockholers will be consumers of the product. The new company will be organized at Chicago within a snort time. At the office of Armour, Flankinton & Co., in the Produce Exchange Building, this was said yesterday:

We do not know the exact details of the scheme here, but we do know that such a company will be attarted very soon. The amount of the capital and the location of the new mells are unknown to us, but first makes little difference in the result. If Mr. Armour wants to make the capital $10,000,000 we think he will have no difficulty in doing so.

SCHOOL CHILDREN SUFFER FROM COLD. Grammar School No. 10 in Wooster-st was only partly heated on Monday. The grate in one of the boilers had given out and the building had to be heated by one heated on Monday. The grate in one of the boliers has given out and the building had to be heated by one boiler. In one of the rooms there are several window panes broken, and the cold blasts rushed in through them. Teachers went about the class-rooms with their wraps on and the children in many classes were obliged to be transferred into large rooms where the temperature was higher. Later in the day the building became more comfortable except in the more exposed rooms in the wings. The school has three departments in which there are about 1.100 pupils. Principal Williamson who has charge of the male grammar department said that the average temperature of his rooms in the upper floor was about 55 degrees, while at the time school assembled in the morning the thermometer in one room showed 46 degrees. Mr. Williamson said that he went home sick on Monday afternoon. Miss Pond, the principal of the female ocpartment, and Miss Purdy, the primary principal, corroborated Mr. Williamson's statement. The lantor of the school said that the condition of the grates in the furnaces had been reported to the school trustees early last month, and the matter had been taken by them to the Committee on Ventilation of the Boari of Education. On Washington's Birthday he let all the fires go out as Engineer Nealis had said that he would inspect the furnaces and have them put in order. The engineer did not come on that day and nothing has yet been done to put them in order.

The report of the decision of the Court of Appeals affirming the conviction of Peter Smith, who is under sentence of death for killing John Harmon, reached the District Attorney's office yesterday. The appeal was one of the first argued by "About two years ago I wrote you a short note setting forth in substance my wite's suffering from chills and fever and her recovery through the use of Kaskins. "I write again at this date to add material details in her case which were omitted in the haste of penuing my first letter. Previous to the spring of 1885 she had suffered for two years with a most pronounced type of Fever and Ague, or Intermittent Malerial Fever. During all this time her life was one of exceptional misery from the fact that the periodical attacks of the disease were of the severest and most distressing nature. Her naturally strong constitution was racked and undermined to an slarming extent.

" one frequently took quintne in doses of PORTY GIAIN AT A TIME. "The troubles and disorders arising from the prolonge use of quante intensified the poor patient's wretched condition. It caused a terrific beausone, ringing 14 the ears, and other signs of quinine poisoning. I should mention that in the course of the treatment arsenic and other powerful anti-symotic drugs were prescribed. This sort of thing was continued until we almost despaired of a cure.

"At this time my attention was called to the claim made for Kaskine as a germicide, or destroyer of the germs which are now admitted to be the cause of all malarial diseases. She at once began the use of it, and we soon tound it to be the God-sent ours which we had hitherto so ght for in vain. I say 'God-sent' for I be lieve He provides a cure for every disease but for some reason of His own leaves their discovery to human sagacity and skill. "To sum ug: My wife was completely cured by Kas kine, not only of her original trouble, fever and ague, bu also of the misshlef that had been done by the quinine. She requests me to say that Kaskine lifted the dark shadore of malaria from her tife, and that she is most grateful to God, who made the ingredients of Kaskine, and to you who distribute it to the sick and suffering. Very truly, yours. 8 .- In case any reader of the foregoing should be inclined to question its convinences or trothfulness, I shall be happy to answer any letters of inquiry addressed to me at No. 18 West 14th Street, New-York. W. S. T. Other letters of a similar character from prominent in dividuals, which stamp Kaskins as a remedy of undoubted merit, will be sent on application. The Kaskine Company, 54 Warren St., New-York, and 35 Farringdon Road, London.
